More Authority For Academic Deans July 1

The academic deans of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will assume more comprehensive authority, responsibility and accountability when their units become schools on July 1, according to Andrew J. Kochman, vice-president and provost.

Two programs—the School of Dental Medicine and the School of Graduate Studies and Research—were unaffected because they are already named schools.

"The actual name change is not what is important here," Kochman said. "What is important is this: We are not a university. Our management system is different from that of a college."

This means that the officers who are responsible for carrying out the academic mission of the university—the deans—have the authority and accountability that goes with that responsibility, he said.

The change in titles is one part of what Kochman said is a key step the university is taking.

"For the first time in any significant way in academic affairs," he said, "the university is making internal reallocations, vis-a-vis our mission, programs and resources."

"What we're engaged in is finding a rational mechanism for planning the curriculum and other academic affairs of the university," Kochman said. "That's something that must be done in a good management environment even with an inflating budget, so a declining budget is not the primary motivation for us."

Kochman said that in the future, the academic mission of SIUE will continue to be several-fold.

"Certainly, interdisciplinary programs will become more and more important in the future," he said. "Furthermore, we must constantly upgrade our curriculum, and attempt to raise the general educational development of our students."

In addition, Kochman believes the area of cooperative graduate programs will become increasingly important in the future.

He cited the university's recently announced agreements with Washington and St. Louis Universities to provide cooperative programs at the doctoral level in certain subject areas.

"These kinds of cooperative programs make good sense," he said. "not only in regard to money but also in terms of the education you offer the student. How much better it is to say to a student: 'Here you have three facilities and three programs of course offerings from which to choose the material you will study,' rather than to take the parochial attitude that your one program is so much better than any others."

State Hopes to Have Private Woods, Ponds Open to Public

Copley News Service
Springfield — The state's new conservation director hopes to expand recreation areas in Illinois by convincing property owners to open their private woods and ponds to the public.

He may even publish a county-by-county directory to let hunters and fishermen from outside the area find them.

Anthony Dean, the tall, thin, sandy-haired new director who was suburban campaign director for Gov. Dan Walker before being named to the conservation post, said the new emphasis will be on acquisition of property rather than "restructuring" in the department.

Dean, a native of Kansas who moved to Illinois five years ago and has been living in Naperville, said he is still feeling his way in many areas, including personnel, and the future of such established programs as interpretive services.

Aiding him in making his decisions will be the nine-member Outdoor Advisory Council, a non-salaried volunteer group which serves as adviser to the director.

William Rutherford, former conservation director, has been named chairman of that advisory body.

Dean hopes to provide more recreation areas in Illinois also by encouraging more gifts of land to the state for the purpose —and by reducing the time between acquisition and opening any new areas to public use.

He also is finding his perspective is changing now that he heads one of the largest land management agencies in state government.

"I feel I have a dual role," he says, "first as a citizen to argue a case, and then as a member of government to work to change it."

Just what will be changed he isn't prepared to say yet, adding that he is still trying to find out what can actually be done before he announces a program and then fall flat in my face because it was impossible.

Personnel changes are another area in which Dean is taking a "wait and see" attitude. "I'm currently trying to find out what's being done, he said. "I'm interested in performance."

How performance will be judged may be somewhat different under the new administration.

Park rangers and other field personnel may be asked to show how much volunteer acreage they've been able to add to department resources, Dean said, as a gauge of performance, rather than merely reciting "I went to this many places and saw so many people during the day, and didn't

State Urged to Have 'Energy Crisis' To Permit More Coal Utilization

The Illinois Manufacturers' Association in a letter sent last week to Governor Daniel Walker, requested him to take immediate executive action to help ease Illinois' critical energy crisis.

The letter said: "Illinois manufacturers, like Illinois agriculture, transportation and the public generally, have been hurt by the present gas and oil fuel shortage. Some production has been lost and employees idled."

"The shortage of gas and oil is unlikely to improve in the near future, especially should a prolonged cold spell occur."

Acquisition of property can be speeded up, Dean believes by re-examining the various financial and departmental approval steps needed and eliminating any that aren't essential, in the sense that further action can't be taken until such a step is completed.

Once property has been acquired, he said, small tracts will be opened up piecemeal for restricted use, even when an entire tract is not yet available or ready for use.

Department rangers and other personnel, he said, will have the chief responsibility for contacting farmers and property owners in their areas and trying to get their permission for public use of land or water resources the owner is not himself using for some reason. Such a system has been used in Pennsylvania and is highly successful, he said, with some areas even posted with notices that they are open for use. He would not expect to go so far as to post property in Illinois, he added.

"The problem is complex, with many different reasons for the fuel shortages. But there are steps that Illinois state and local governments can take to help alleviate the situation."

"Coal, the one major fuel available to relieve this situation, is not being burned by many industrial firms and utilities which might be able to do so if needlessly restrictive air pollution regulations were relaxed."

Emphasis in his administration, Dean said, will be on a "conservation ethic"—a sense of respect for the land and the human habitation, not just for this generation but the next. "It's what the farmers call 'land stewardship,'" Dean said. "It has to involve everybody who uses the resources, not just the people who work there."

"Many industrial plants have converted from coal to gas or oil, adding to the consumption of those fuels. "With gas cut off and oil deliveries being slashed, some of these firms could convert to burning higher-sulfur coal if permitted to do so by the pollution control agencies."

"This might at least be allowed in areas of the state where there are no real particulate or sulfur dioxide problems."

"We therefore urge you to establish procedures for relaxing restrictions on coal burning in areas meeting federal primary (health) air quality standards."

The IMA contends that restrictive pollution control regulations adopted by the now defunct Air Pollution Control Board, and also by the current Pollution Control Board, contribute to the fuel shortage by limiting coal burning.

Local pollution regulations such as Chicago's also drastically reduce use of coal, it is noted.

In view of the clean fuels shortage, and the lack of pollution problems in many areas of the state, the IMA said, it urges that coal be permitted to be burned in areas meeting federal health standards.

MORE ABOUT Treatment

that on the basis of this action by the federal EPA. It is obvious that the city must install chlorination facilities at the primary treatment plant, and that if it does not, the city faces the possibility of court action by the federal agency.

Council members complained that the city at this time has no assurances of federal or state grants for construction of its proposed secondary treatment plant, and that it has no money to proceed in any direction without guarantees that such funds will be allowed.

Granite City, which at one time had a priority rating of seven in the list of sewage treatment projects approved by the state EPA, has been removed from the 1972 grant list because of delay in meeting procedural requirements in development of the secondary treatment plant.

A 1973 federal grant program has not yet been approved, and Granite City therefore is without a grant status of any kind at this time.

At the same time, the council learned in another EPA communication last week that the city will be required to have a firm contract for construction of the secondary plant not later than March 15, and that to get the project certified by the federal EPA, a state certification of such a contract must be provided not later than March 15.

Alderman Walter Nott noted that "there is no way we can enter into a contract without assurances of federal and state help... once we sign a contract we are committing the city to a debt of more than $10 million. How can we do that if we are not certain we are going to get any state or federal money?"

Alderman Steve Basarich remarked that state and federal EPA officials "want us to put more money (for chlorination) into this thing and we may end up footing the entire bill."

Granite City has entered into an agreement with a St. Louis construction firm on a bid price of $10.8 million for building the secondary treatment plant. The agreement, however, is contingent upon the city's receipt of state and federal grants.

The council also received a letter from Aaron Pierson, vice-president of the M. W. Engineers & Architects, Inc., St.

Louis engineering firm which is handling the engineering and planning work for the city's secondary treatment plant, in which Pierson said.

"As a result of the informal hearing conducted (Jan. 4) by Mr. Walter Romanek, attorney for the U. S. EPA, it appears the city of Granite City will be required to install interim disinfection of the effluent from the existing primary wastewater treatment plant."

Pierson asked that the city authorize the engineering firm to proceed with whatever design and preparation of plans may be required to accomplish this additional scope of work.

Pierson estimated cost of the engineering at $3,000.

Pierson added:

"Prompt authorization is necessary if we are to be in a position to make a telephone progress report Feb. 5, to Mr. David Welch, U. S. EPA sanitary engineer, and a more detailed report at the next informal hearing scheduled by Mr. Walter Romanek for Feb. 14."

The council took no action on the letter, although its next council meeting is not scheduled until Feb. 5, four days after the EPA progress report is to be made.

Alderman Gerald Parnley suggested that the council seek the aid of its representatives in congress "so we can't get these agencies off our back."

The council approved a motion by Parnley authorizing Mayor Donald Partney to write Sens. Stevenson and Percy and Cong. Pica, explaining the city's problems and asking their help.

With both varsity basketball teams occupying the gymnasium, the South wrestling team will have to host matches in the South "gymnasium annex," for which pullout bleachers seating 450 to 495 were approved.

The board also agreed to purchase a movable outdoor bleacher for about $800 for track, football, soccer, baseball and other outdoor activities at the North school, for all three sets of bleachers was estimated at $18,000.

Heuber reported that contracts for $43,320 for all lockers at the new school have been awarded to bidders.

The board approved purchase of chalkboards for North at a cost of $13,476.

The athletic and physical education fields were plowed in October and grass seed has been purchased and is in stock, waiting for the proper weather for seeding. Cost of preparing the fields is about $250.

An estimated cost of $100,000 for preparation of drives and parking areas at the North school was used.

Heuber reported he could seal and chip the surfaces and possibly install curbing at a cost of $10,000.

Bids for paving the areas with asphalt ranged from $120,108 to $190,000 and were rejected because of the cost.

A letter from Homer & Schirmer, Inc., consulting engineers, was presented indicating that construction of drives to the school, with proper curbing, will improve drainage on the North property.

He then told the clerk to "just lay it on the counter." When she complied, he ordered her to lie down on the floor and scooped the money from the counter, sticking it in his coat, she said.

He wore a greenish-brown nylon jacket made with a stand-up collar. Miss Gabriel informed police.

Record Crowd at Ball For Crippled Children

Approximately 575 persons—a record crowd—attended the 35th annual ball sponsored by the Verne Crippled Children's Organization Saturday night.

The ball began at 8 p.m. Saturday and continued until 1 a.m. Sunday to the music of the Noblemen, a 17-piece band made up of members of Annapolis and the Musicians Union.

The event was held in the Venice-Madison Legion Home, 740 Broadway.

Funds will be allotted to the Madison County March of Dimes, the Shriners Crippled Children's Hospital and to benefit local crippled children.

Honored guests at the ball were Anna Mae Beck, executive secretary of the Madison County Chapter of the March of Dimes and Milton Morris, chairman of the Madison County chapter of the March of Dimes.

Decorating of the hall was done by the CYO of St. Mark's Church with Susan Wells as chairman.

A roadblock held Saturday at Broadway and Klein by members of the Venice Volunteer Fire Department and the American Legion Post. More than $600 was raised by the roadblock.

His right ear has been closed since birth and it is believed there is no chance of gaining hearing in that ear.

Mandatory Seat Belt Use Could Save Lives

By JON THOMPSON
Copy News Service

A large portion of the American public has decreed the fact that since the beginning of the U.S. involvement in Vietnam, something on the order of 55,000 Americans lost their lives there.

Tragic? Of course it is. But what is really shocking is that the same number of Americans lose their lives EVERY YEAR in what is beginning to look like a situation of even higher risk than war.

And those unfortunate are not just robust young men. They're elderly people, small children and young mothers, too.

But perhaps the ones that die are the lucky ones. Because in addition to them, 3.8 million people are maimed every year, and many carry their disability for life.

What horribly dangerous activity are they all involved in? What frightening thing must they do that brings such a terrible price to bear on them?

They drive or ride in a car. That the federal government has been embroiled in a program to save us from ourselves is no big secret, what with the large amounts of press given the Experimental Safety Vehicle (ESV) project and the air-bag.

But it doesn't take too close an inspection of the super expensive ESV or the almost laughable airbag (that magically pops up and cushions you in case of a crash, right?) to conclude that there just has to be a better way.

Well, Chester Pulley and the Australian government think they've found that better way. The name of the game is mandatory seat belt usage.

Pulley is behind it because he's president of the American Safety Belt Council. Australia is behind it because since mandatory belt laws have gone into effect there, seat belt usage has risen 65%, and traffic fatalities are down — actually down — 20%.

This figure, applied to the annual U.S. traffic death statistic, would mean approximately 11,000 fewer deaths each year.

Pulley says that during a recent trip to study the Australian plan he visited Austin General Hospital in Melbourne.

He was told there that before the belt laws, 17% of all accident victims admitted to the hospital died.

With mandatory belt usage, the hospital records showed that figure is now down to 9%.

The simplicity of the idea, Pulley says, is beautiful. Most cars here are already equipped with not only belts but shoulder harnesses as well.

A mandatory belt usage law could work in the United States, Pulley says, because first of all, he believes most Americans are willing to obey the law.

For those who aren't, all the police would have to watch for would be an unused shoulder strap.

Certainly a mandatory seat belt law raises some grave questions in the field of personal liberties.

But on the other hand, the benefits of such legislation are rather obvious.

Q. My steel-belted radial tires seem to be wearing rather quickly on their outside edges. What could the problem be?

A. Could be your tires are underinflated. And you might have the front end alignment checked, giving special attention to the camber settings.

Imports Taking Nearly Fifth of Steel Market

Imports continued to account for nearly one-fifth of the entire domestic steel supply in November, according to American Iron and Steel Institute.

AISI reported that foreign steel constituted 18.9% of apparent steel consumption in the U.S. during the month. This compares with a 19.3% share in October. Imports accounted for at least 18.7% of the nation's apparent steel consumption in four of the five months during the July-November period.

Government data show that in November, 1,833,000 tons of imported steel, including 9,000 tons of fabricated structural steel and steel blanks, arrived in the U.S. This pushed total steel imports through the first 11 months of 1972 to 16,192,000 tons, including 129,000 tons of fabricated structural steel and steel blanks.

Although the steel import tonnage for the January-November period of 1972 was 5.3% less than its comparable 1971 figure, the value of these imports had increased 4.2%—to $2,537,000,000. The average per ton declared value of these imports rose $14.30, to an average level of $157.82 per ton.

In November, the European Economic Community and the United Kingdom shipped 795,000 tons of steel mill products to this country. Imports from Japan were 720,000 tons, while those from all other countries totaled 300,000 tons.

The Great Lakes-Canadian Border region received 796,000 tons—or 43.6% of the month's steel mill products imports, boosting steel imports into this area through November to 5.1%.

Total stainless imports through November of 138,000 tons were 21.3% behind their 1971 pace, primarily because of a 47.9% drop in shipments from Japan. However, the EEC and U.K. exports to this country by 19.1% during the same period.

In the first 11 months of 1972, steel imports were up 15.9% over the previous year, with Japanese shipments recording a 17.7% increase. Sweden, however, continues to be the largest supplier of foreign-made tool steel, accounting for 4.1% of all such imports through November.

Imports of tin plate were up 28.7% from their 1971 level. Foreign shipments to the U.S. of cold finished bars were up by 37.3%, while plate imports outpaced their 11 month, 1971 total by 4.5%.

FIRST SEASON TIPOFF for SIUE women. In their initial intercollegiate basketball contest, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Cougars (in white) were defeated by Principia College, 62-32. Jan Green of Wood River (No. 10 at left) was high scorer for SIUE with 15 points.

Mixed Reaction on Campus To Court Ruling on Abortion

The U. S. Supreme Court's decision last week to legalize abortion laws met with mixed reactions in a random sampling of students, faculty and staff at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The decision by the Supreme Court states that in the first three months of pregnancy the decision for abortion is strictly between a woman and her physician.

Dr. Emerson Carpenter of SIUE's Health Service said he would rather give out birth control pills to avoid pregnancy, than refer a woman to an abortion clinic.

"Aside from the moral issue involved, I think it's important for people to realize that it's not the court's job to respond to sensibilities or morals but to interpret the meaning of changing constitutional doctrine," John Paul Davis, legal counsel for the university, said.

One staff member, Mrs. Maria Francis of Edwardsville, said the decision was "the closest thing to murder." But Dorothy Kaestner of Alton, also on the SIUE staff, said she thought the decision was "fantastic."

Father James Shortall of the SIUE Religious Center said he was "sorry to hear it. I wished it could be different, but that seems to be the way things are going these days."

Students and some staff members, questioned generally, thought the decision was good, based on the concept of individual privacy.

"I feel it's a good decision because it's left up to the individual now," said Mrs. Marjorie Sorelle, an SIUE staff member.

John Vigna, a student from Collinsville, said it didn't make any difference to him, but Joel Berry of Alton, a veteran enrolled at SIUE, said he thought it was a much needed decision.

Added Hours for Income Tax Aid

Taxpayers can receive help with their federal income tax returns Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and next Monday until 8 p.m., according to Orvin E. Diekmann, manager of the East St. Louis Internal Revenue Service office.

This is in addition to the regular assistance given at 650 Missouri Ave. Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Diekmann said, "We're staying open extra hours during the filing season to offer assistance to taxpayers who find it difficult to call or visit our office during our regular hours."

State Revenue personnel will be on duty at 1265 N. 89th St., East St. Louis, to help taxpayers with their Illinois state income tax returns, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

"Many taxpayers may find it easier to call the IRS office for help while filling out their returns at home. The number to call in East St. Louis is 875-1200. This is a direct line," Diekmann said.

2 Psychiatrists Added To State Hospital Staff

Two new psychiatrists have been added to the professional staff at Alton State Hospital. Dr. Abraham Aronson began his duties in the Northern Unit in January, and Dr. Thwan Ham Han will begin practicing on Feb. 1, for the Southern Unit.

Dr. Aronson is a graduate of the University of Illinois and is presently engaged in private practice in Clayton. He has served as a consultant in psychiatry to the staff of Alton since for a number of years.

Now he will be working a regular part-time schedule at the hospital each Monday, Wednesday afternoon and Friday.

Previous professional staff positions include: Dixon State School, Dixon; Kankakee State Hospital, Kankakee; Meritola State Hospital, Madison, Wisconsin; and member of the teaching staff of the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Aronson is a veteran and has served as a captain in the Army.

Dr. Han is a graduate of Airlangga University, Surabaya, Indonesia. He completed his resident training at the Missouri Institute of Psychiatry in St. Louis and received his Illinois medical license in June 1972. He served on staff at the Jefferson Barracks Veterans Hospital and as an assistant professor in psychiatry at St. Louis University.

Liaison Between 8 Universities

John Clow, a member of the Business Division faculty at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is serving as liaison between SIUE and seven other state universities as part of an advisory group that works through the Division of Vocational and Technical Education of the state of Illinois.

"One of the group's main functions is to research priorities for the fiscal year and submit proposals of programs we feel are most important," Clow said.

Clow said another purpose of the committee is to encourage people in the university to submit ideas so that the liaison group can also act as a clearing house of information.

Other schools represented are Western Illinois University, Eastern Illinois University, Northern Illinois University, Chicago State University, Illinois State University, University of Illinois and Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Clow believes the liaison group has been effective in two-way communications.

He came to SIUE in the spring of 1972 from Illinois State University. He is an associate professor in the department of business education there.

NEW ASSISTANT CHIEF OF POLICE Raymond N. Mikolasuk, Venice, reviews case reports Saturday at the Venice police station. Mikolasuk was promoted from sergeant to his new rank at a meeting of the Venice City Council. A lifelong resident of Venice, he has been on the police force 19 years.

Mikolasuk New Assistant Police Chief at Venice

Ray Mikolasuk, a member of the Venice police department for 19 years, has been named assistant chief of police on a recommendation by the Venice Board of Police Commissioners. City council members concurred in the recommendation in a meeting last week.

At the same time, council members concurred in the appointment of Mervyn Langston to the rank of police sergeant. Langston has been on the police force 13 years.

In other council business, the Newport Homecoming Association was granted permission to hold its third annual homecoming Sept. 1, 2 and 3, pending approval of the parade route by Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley.

It was reported that the structure at 124 Abbott St. had been demolished.

A letter of resignation by Patrolman James J. Shambro was read and accepted. Shambro resigned from the police force effective Jan. 24 to become a full-time university student.

It was announced that at 9:30 a.m. Feb. 27 the police board will give civil service examinations for probationary patrolman.

The police report for the month of December 1972 listed a total of 32 adult arrests and eight juvenile arrests.

Adult arrests included 14 traffic violations, two state order violations, 12 state traffic violations, four state felony violations, four state misdemeanors, one failure to pay fine, one released to the military as absent without leave and one arrested for investigation.

Juvenile arrest included one for investigation in a burglary, released to parents; one on investigation of auto theft, released to parents; one arrested for County Detention Home; three arrested for the Madison police department; one arrested for a traffic violation, and one arrested for theft and released to parents.

An expense allowance of $150 was approved for Chief Brawley to attend the annual convention of The Association of Chiefs of Police near Chicago during the weekend.

The council approved a building permit for a 12' by 70' mobile home at 1209 Logan St., belonging to Mrs. Aggie Graw, subject to proper anchorage.

The Street and Alley Commission reported that holes on Fox road and Line Alley need filling and other defects on County road are in need of repair.

The council authorized motor repairs to garbage truck number 100. It was reported by Superintendent of Streets Jay Maurer that the truck motor can be repaired for a maximum of $394, while a new motor would cost $1,166.15.

Mayor Lee reported to the council that along with Edward Juneau, city engineer, and Harry Hartman, city attorney, he will request a meeting with the Madison Board of Education to seek an agreement for a street outlet by Dunbar School onto Weaver street.

Police Chief Brawley reported that the remodeling of the City hall is moving along well. He said the old hall has been removed completely and the contractors are busy tearing down walls, lowering ceilings and working on plumbing and wiring.

He said arrangements have been made with Madison police to hold any prisoners for them. The project is expected to be completed in late May or early June, he said.

At the request of Mayor Lee, the council agreed that $4,000

Venice Cagers Win Dupo Tourney; Madison Third

The Venice High School Devils returned home from the Dupo Tournament Friday with another first place trophy as they defeated Carmi 61-37, while the Madison Trojans demolished the host school for third place honors 77-51.

Venice didn't take the lead until midway in the third quarter as they trailed 16-15 the first quarter and tied 29-29 at half time.

Halfway through the third quarter it was 35-33 when the Devils racked up six straight points to take and hold the lead. The closest Carmi came after that was three points. Venice lead at the end of the third quarter 43-30, and both teams scored 18 points in the final act.

Ron Henry, 6-5 center for Venice, led the Devil attack with 29 points and was chosen as the tournament's most valuable player.

Other Devils scoring were Cornelius Wiley 11, Tony Sitton, 10, Ray Mesby 6 and J. B. Harmon 5.

Venice had a 13-3 free throw advantage but was outshot from the floor 27-24. "It is always good to win tournaments when you play an independent schedule," Venice Mentor Bill Ohlendorf said. "We get all keyed up for tournament action, but Friday we really did not play as well as we can. It wasn't until the middle of the third quarter that we started playing good defense."

"At times we seemed to just stand around, which was disappointing to me. Carmi is too good a club not to hustle all the time."

Venice now is 16-6 and since the 1964-65 season the Red Devils have won 18 of 33 tournaments.

The host school, Dupo, was seeded fourth over Madison but proved to be no match on the floor in the battle for third place Friday as the Trojans demolished them.

Quarter scores favored the Trojans 21-19, 52-33 and 61-43. In the final quarter the Trojans outpointed Dupo 16-8.

Madison led from the floor 36-18, but from the charity line it was Dupo 15-5.

The Trojans dominated the boards 32-23, while Dupo made 20 turnovers and Madison 12.

Trojan Jerry Belford led the field with 23 points, followed by Anthony Matthews 21, Charles Lucas 12, Kevin Boyd 8, Robin Pritchard 5, Rudolph Bradley 4 and Alvin Wigfall and Roger Gasper 2.

Madison, which plays mainly larger schools, now has a 10-8 record.

"I think our team played very well against Dupo," Trojan Coach Graham commented. "Everyone was working well together and the fellows are keeping their cool. It was good to be able to give several of the players, who are forced to warm the bench in a close game, a chance to see some varsity action."

Madison was scheduled to host St. Louis Roosevelt Tuesday but due to the teacher strike in St. Louis the game has been postponed.

Madison will play at Venice at 4 p.m. Friday and attendance at the game will be limited to students.

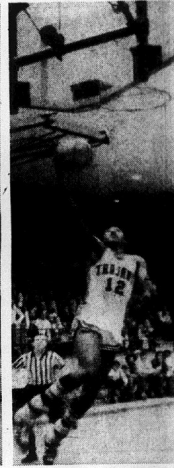

Wood River won the consolation championship Friday over Levejoy of Brooklyn 78-75.

GCHS Matmen Stop Cahokia, Roxana and Hazelwood Here

Cahokia, Roxana and Hazelwood all were victims of the powerful Warrior wrestling team this weekend in the Granite City High School gym.

The victories extend the Warriors' dual meet undefeated streaks to 19 for this season and 40 consecutive over the last three seasons. The Cahokia and Roxana victories were the 17th and 18th in a row for Warrior teams against Southern Illinois opponents.

Cahokia fell 40-6 in a dual meet Friday, while Roxana lost 35-3 and Hazelwood was stopped 45-12 by the Warriors in a double dual Saturday.

Five Granite City grapplers were defeated in the three matches. Winning all three were Pat MacMillan (98 pounds), Phil Lapinski (105) and Kerry Johnson (119). Dennis Ragan (126) and Jack Schooley (167) were victorious in two matches each and won by defaults against Hazelwood.

Against Cahokia the Warriors won 10 matches and lost two. Losses were against 150-pounder Mike Haywood who was fifth in the state last year and 160 for the season. He downed Warrior Brian Wilson on a 6-0 decision. Warrior John McMillan (heavyweight) also lost Friday but put on one of the most spectacular showings of the event. Warrior Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt commented later.

McMillan came extremely close to pinning Cahokia's 280-pounder Kevin Bergman who was 150 for the season, all by pins. Bergman's 6-0 decision marked the first time this year he has been unable to pin his opponent.

The Warriors won eight of 12 matches against Roxana and nine against Hazelwood. Roxana's only undefeated wrestler, Rick Briggs (135) extended his season record to 17 with a 5-2 decision over Warrior Wilson. Hazelwood forfeited two matches as three of their top wrestlers were kept on the injured list, recovering for upcoming district competition there. On the bench were John Ritchie, a former Granite City resident, and Rick Nardoni and Frank Gusamona. "I do not think they could have changed the outcome of the meet," Schmitt said.

Warrior scores and times of the pins against Cahokia, Roxana and Hazelwood were: MacMillan (98) 7:5, 3:13, 3:34; Lapinski (105), 9:4, 1:12, 1:40; Niebur (112), 5:12, 10:58, 8:3; Johnson (119), 8:2, 1:40, 3:19; Ragan (126), 2:41, 36 seconds, won by default, and Dan Heath (132), 4:34, lost 4-5, lost 1-5.

Dave Rushing (138), 10:2, 3:40, lost 8-10; Ken Nolan (145), 2:1, 2:0, lost 5-8; Wilson (155), lost 0-6, lost 2-5, 9:3; Schooley (167), 3:2, 15:4, won by forfeit; John Avedisian (185), 5:2, lost 3-8, 1:49, and McMillan (heavyweight), 5-0.

Cougars Gain Revenge, Stop Northeastern Cagers 85-69

The matter of pride in sports, collectively and individually, is a lot more important than the average fan realizes.

At Chicago around the middle of December, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team of Coach Jim Dudley was clobbered, crushed and almost annihilated by Northeastern Illinois University, 113-85.

Saturday night at the Edwardsville High gym, when the two teams met again, it was obvious that Dudley's Dandies were out for revenge and they got it to the tune of 85-69. The victory, SIUE's fourth straight, ran the Cougars' record to 10-6 and dropped Northeastern's to 14-4.

At Chicago around the middle of December, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team of Coach Jim Dudley was clobbered, crushed and almost annihilated by Northeastern Illinois University, 113-85.

Saturday night at the Edwardsville High gym, when the two teams met again, it was obvious that Dudley's Dandies were out for revenge and they got it to the tune of 85-69. The had averaged 60% on field goals in the last three games, fell to 30% or 35 of 70 shots.

The Cougars will host Rockhurst College team from Kansas City Wednesday and Friday they take on Indiana University Southeast at Jeffersonville, Ind. Dudley's team will travel to Bolivar, Mo., Saturday to play Southwest Baptist College.

Throwing a little pal over Cougars dreams, Wright had to leave the game against Northeastern late in the game with an injured right knee. Just how serious the injury is won't be known until late today.

Mat Cougars in Home Debut, Host Cincinnati

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling team will make its season home debut Tuesday at the ballroom of the University Center starting at 7:30 p.m.

Facing the Cougars wrestlers will be the University of Cincinnati Bearcats of Coach Mike Sager. It will be the first meeting between the two schools in any sport.

Coach Larry Kristoff's SIUE team, which scored an impressive 18-16 victory over Western Illinois University at Matou, is at full strength. "I think the boys are back in the proper mental attitude now after the win over Western and from now on we should be tough."

Kristoff replaces Iowa Wesleyan and the University of Tennessee at Martin on the Cougars' schedule.

Iowa and Tennessee were to have wrestled Jan. 20 in what would have been the Cougars' first home match. But, when Wesleyan canceled, Tennessee decided to not come, either.

Kristoff, in filling the vacancy, called many schools and found that Cincinnati would be pleased to meet powerhouse Oklahoma and Oklahoma University this Thursday and Saturday and are pleased to fill in the Cougars' open date.

Those Who File Tax Returns Must Answer Questions Pertaining to Revenue Sharing

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a service to taxpayers; the column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q Is it true that this year's federal income tax return asks questions related to federal revenue sharing?

A Yes. Your 1972 Form 1040 and short form 1040A asks two questions related to the sharing of federal money with state and local governments.

One question asks the location of your principal place of residence (state, county, locality and township); the second question asks for the number of your dependents who are filing a return of their own or who did not live at your principal place of residence at the end of 1972.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 8 Mon., Jan. 29, 1973

You must supply the correct information in your answers to these questions to ensure that your state, county and local community receive their rightful share of revenue sharing funds.

Q Does every taxpayer have to give his state, county, locality and township in answering the revenue sharing question on place of residence?

A All of this information may not be required. Only certain states have townships and these are specified in your tax form instructions.

If your state is not listed there, you can leave this blank. If you live at your principal place of residence at the end of 1972, there are a few places, such as Baltimore City, Md. and St. Louis, Mo., that are not within a county. Once again, these areas are listed in your instructions.

Unless you lived outside the U.S. on Dec. 31, 1972, you must enter the abbreviation for your state in the column provided.

In addition, if you lived inside an incorporated city, town or village, print the name of the municipality in the "locality" column.

If you did not live inside the boundaries of such a location, check the box in this column.

Q Can you give me some tips on how to guard against dishonest tax preparers?

A The IRS offers the following advice to taxpayers seeking assistance from commercial income tax return preparers: never sign a blank return; do not sign a tax return prepared in pencil because it can be changed later; do not allow your refund check to be mailed to the preparer; avoid the advisor who "guarantees" refunds, wants a percentage of the refund, or supposedly knows all the angles; and avoid the preparer who advises a taxpayer to overstate deductions, claim fictitious dependents or omit income.

In addition, taxpayers should insist that the tax preparer sign the return he prepares and enter his tax identifying number.

Finally, be sure to keep a copy of your return.

Q What are the rules for deducting finance charges on department store revolving charge accounts?

A You may deduct the "finance charge" levied by retail stores on your revolving charge accounts if the charges are based on your unpaid balances and computed monthly.

Also, in the case of bank credit card plans, you can deduct the finance charge if no part of this amount is for service charges, loan fees, credit investigation fees, etc.

However, if you buy items on the installment plan and the carrying charges are separately stated, but the interest charge cannot be ascertained, deduct the lower of (1) 8% of your average unpaid monthly balance or (2) the actual charge for the year.

For more details, see IRS Publication 545, "Income Tax Deduction for Interest Expense."

Use the order blank on the back of your tax forms package to obtain a free copy.

Q I had no income tax liability for 1972, but I'm filing a return to receive income tax withheld from my pay.

A Can I still designate $1 of the tax withheld towards the Presidential Election Campaign Fund?

A No. You can only make the $1 check-off if you had an income tax liability.

This does not mean that because you are getting a refund, you can't use the $1 check-off, but it does mean that you must be able to show tax on line 20 of your Form 1040 or line 21 of your short Form 1040A to use the check-off.

Shaggy Folklore Jokes Are Being Compiled, Show Society's Change

Jesus jokes, shaggy elephant jokes, Confucius jokes—all are examples of American folklore being assembled in an archive at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The archive is the work of John L. Oldani, assistant professor of English and director of the American studies program at SIUE. Besides the jokes, riddles, superstitions and truisms of Southern Illinois, Oldani is recording and collecting the folklore of Croats, Italians, Germans, the Irish, Vietnamese and others.

He does not record the folklore of other countries, per se; he is only interested in such folklore as it is remembered by persons of foreign derivation living here. "These texts, as they are called, can then be used by scholars to compare with the folklore of the country a person comes from," Oldani said.

As part of his research, Oldani is interviewing as many of the persons of Croatian extraction in the St. Louis metropolitan area as he can, with the help of the Slavic and East European Friends of SIUE. SAEF has given him money for travel and other expenses of his interviews. The texts, or individual items of recollection, will be available for study by scholars.

"Folklore is the oral tradition," Oldani explained. "It is the communication of group to group, age to age, or parent to child. It's the informal learning process you undergo."

"You didn't sit down in a classroom to learn that if a black cat crosses your path, it's bad luck," he said. "These things aren't written down. You learn them from parents, and from jokes and superstitions."

Oldani believes jokes reveal that Americans have a strong feeling for nonsensical humor. "Some Americans are able to devote all of their time to shaggy elephant jokes, alone," he said.

These shaggy elephant jokes are so numerous that they in turn are classifiable by folklorists, according to Oldani.

"For example," he said, "there are the 'sneaker' jokes: 'Why did the elephants wear red sneakers?' To hide in the strawberry patch'; and 'Why did the elephants wear a matching sneakers? Because they're all on the same basketball team.'"

"On the other hand," Oldani said, "there are the elephant bed jokes: 'How can you tell if there's an elephant under your bed? Because the bed's so close to the ceiling; and 'How can you tell if an elephant is in bed with you? By the smell of peanuts on its breath.'"

Oldani also identifies kinds of humor that reflect more serious purposes, he believes.

"The so-called 'Confucius' jokes are very revealing," he said. "What do they say about us as Americans? They show us that we can take a foreign philosophy, a 'sacred' philosophy, and break it down, so it isn't sacred anymore to us."

According to Oldani, this kind of humor serves as "a kind of purging, if you will. It's very practical. It's the way we break down the sacredness. We're not making fun of the thing itself," he said, "but of the sacredness of the thing."

Oldani believes the archive he is trying to build at SIUE will be useful to scholars on a number of levels. "For example," he said, "there are many numbers of answers to the question 'What's black and white and red all over?' If you answer 'a newspaper,' you reveal your age, because that answer was popular in the 1950s."

"But if you answer '... a wounded nun,' you reveal two things. One, you show that you learned the joke in the 1960s. More importantly, your answer shows that society has changed; in the 1960s, we didn't make such jokes about nuns. In the 1960s, we did. Society had changed."

Philip, Nettles, Taft May Run For Treasurer

By AL MANNING
Copy News Service

Springfield—With all of the politicians now in and out of town, ambitious Republicans have begun maneuvering for the GOP state treasurer nomination.

At this point, incumbent Democrat Alan Dixon of Belleville is expected to see reelection when his first term ends in 1974.

One of those who has been approached by leading Republicans is State Rep. James Philip of Elmhurst.

The 42-year-old lawmaker said it is "certainly premature" to discuss running for office at this time, but he says his candidacy is a possibility. Under present law, the campaign would start in December 1972 when candidates file nominating petitions.

"Some people have come to me about it," Philip said, "and I am interested at this point."

Philip's selling points are that he is well-known to the leaders of the party because he is in his fourth term in the legislature; he is the county chairman of the populous DuPage County; and he managed George Lindberg's successful campaign for state comptroller.

There are 200 employees left over from the old auditor's office and Lindberg hopes to add about 50 more to handle the additional chores he has as comptroller.

Philip isn't the only one with an eye to the future with others who have been mentioned as possible candidates include William Nettles of Carlyle, administrative assistant to Atty. Gen. William Scott; William Cellini of Springfield, state transportation secretary; Justin Taft of Springfield, Illinois Supreme Court clerk; Harry Page of Springfield, assistant principal of Southeast High School in Springfield; Harber Hall of Bloomington, a state senator; Robert Dwyer of Winnetka, a business executive; and John Henry Albert of Peoria, an industrialist.

Nettles, 42, says he is interested but quickly adds there are a lot of things to take into consideration. "A former sheriff and county treasurer of Clinton County, he managed Scott's downstate campaign during the last run. He says it will take in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars to run against Dixon.

Cellini's name has popped up in some GOP circles when the race is mentioned, but he has thus far kept a lid on what his plans are when he leaves the Department of Transportation.

Dick Gregory to Speak At SIUE on Thursday

Dick Gregory, comedian and spokesman for social reform, will speak at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Gregory's speech will be entitled "Social Problems: Social or Anti-Social?"

Gregory was born in St. Louis and later attended Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. He entered the entertainment field and rose quickly to the top. Since that time, he has lectured extensively at colleges and universities.

As he describes his life now, he says: "The real champion, I have come to understand, is the man who has risen to the crest of life's highest purpose—singular and complete devotion to serving one's fellow man."

Tickets for Gregory's speech can be purchased at the door. Prices are 50 cents for students and $1 for non-students.

His visit will be sponsored by the SIUE University Center Board.

LOSES ITEMS ON STREET

Pat Box, 2017 Missouri Ave., told police at 3:40 p.m. Thursday that while walking in the area of N. Dearborn, Delmar and Edison avenues he lost from her purse two savings bonds and a $50 check and $30 in currency.

Valdis lost two metal brackets to the exterior mirrors on a 1972 truck parked in a driveway at 2117 Cottage Ave., the owner reported at 8:15 a.m. Friday. The mirrors were valued at $25.

VANDALS DAMAGE TRUCK

One possibility is a Washington position. Taft says he is "kind of interested" and has mentioned it to a couple of people, although he has not really discussed it in full with anyone. His term as clerk expires in 1974, after which the high court will appoint the clerk.

Page has been trying to line up support early, but some Republicans are private. The call of his candidacy because his brother, Ray, was rejected by the voters after serving two terms as superintendent of public instruction.

Hall was just sworn in as a senator after serving both as a representative and McLean county treasurer. Dwyer was the running mate of former Gov. Richard Ogilvie in 1968 when former Lt. Gov. Paul Simon was elected.

Altorfer would perhaps be the strongest candidate in the state, but he is not seeking the position nor is he interested in it. Altorfer challenged Ogilvie for the gubernatorial nomination in 1968 and more recently was the downstate campaign manager for President Nixon.

In the end, money will be a factor—not how well the potential treasurer can handle it, but whether he can raise enough for the campaign.

Jesse, left, executive vice-president of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, last week presented 23 Landmark of Freedom Shrine plaques which will be given to each of the local schools. A similar presentation will be made to the Madison and Venice School Boards.

Mrs. Parthenia Bell, 538 Mercedosa St., Venice, told police she was at Factory Outlet Store, 18th Street and Delmar Avenue, when approached by a woman who reported finding $2,600 lost by someone at a race track. She said the money was in $1,000 bills and she hadn't the funds to pay a "tax" charge needed to cash the money into bills of smaller denomination.

Another shopper, standing nearby, offered to put in some cash to help the woman change the large bills and Mrs. Bell contributed $60. The other shopper left briefly and returned, displaying a "large roll" of money, the Venice resident said, but reported where she was sent to a local realty office to pick up her share, she found the clerk knew nothing about the scheme.

When Mrs. Bell returned to her auto she found the other woman had departed with her money.

Graduate Fellowships For Disadvantaged

Seventeen graduate fellowships for minority and disadvantaged students in the metropolitan area will be awarded by the Graduate School of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville during the 1973-74 school year.

Howard S. Dye, dean of the school, said priority will be given to Illinois residents of the St. Louis area. The fellowships provide non-taxable stipends of $29 a month for 12 months and remission of tuition for four consecutive academic quarters.

Dye said the fellowships are being offered to encourage students with good academic records who might not be able to continue their education beyond the bachelor degree level because of their economic situation.

"These fellowships should help increase the number of skilled individuals committed to urban development, social involvement and human reconciliation," Dye said.

Applicants should be American citizens and members of minority groups who are prepared to begin and continue graduate study on a full-time basis.

Successful applicants must be able to meet the admission requirements of the Graduate School and the specific department in which they wish to study.

Applications are available at the Office of Graduate Studies and Research in the General Office Building at SIUE. Mail requests for applications should be addressed to Box 146, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025. Deadline for applications is March 1.

Nine graduate fellowships were awarded this year to minority or disadvantaged students.

Auto Division Profits Are Stable Despite Most Extensive Model Changes in History

Effective performance by the Automotive Division has been cited by L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer of the A. O. Smith Corp., during a talk to the Investment Analysts Society of Chicago, it was reported last week.

The corporation earned $9,944,000 or $2.02 per share in 1972 on record sales of $492,770,000. In 1971, there were profits of $12,808,000 or $2.61 a share (before an extraordinary loss) on sales of $456,946,000.

Smith said losses at the company's elevator subsidiaries and at a former line pipe manufacturing affiliate were the principal reasons for the earnings decline in 1972.

He estimated that if the elevator and line pipe businesses had attained the same results as in 1971, earnings in 1972 would have been $1.12 per share higher.

Bicycle-Vehicle Crashes On Rise Throughout State

Copley News Service

Springfield—Not surprisingly, in a confrontation between a bicycle and a motor vehicle, the motor vehicle almost always wins.

Since, as every motorist must have noticed by now, bicycles and even big tri-cycles seem to be multiplying like flies in warm weather, more and more are engaging in conflicts with motorized vehicles, and more and more are losing.

So are their riders.

The Illinois department of transportation's figures show that in 1969, 27 bicyclists were killed in Illinois in collisions involving motor vehicles. That number rose to 34 in 1970, and came close to doubling itself within two years, when 59 deaths occurred in the state in 1971.

Figures just compiled show the total dropped a little in 1972, to 44 deaths from 43 accidents involving pedaled vehicles and motor vehicles.

Overall, traffic deaths from auto accidents also declined during 1972 in the state, so it is not certain if the decline in cycling deaths just reflects overall increased caution on Illinois roads.

The pattern may become clear when statistics are compiled on the numbers of non-fatality accidents and injuries.

During the three-year period from 1969-71 injuries resulting from bicycle-motor vehicle accidents also rose impressively with reports of 2,231, 2,865, and 3,348 respectively.

Transportation spokesmen point out that in 1971, the classification had been changed from "bicycle" to "pedalcycle" to include the increasing numbers of three-wheelers being used more and more by handicapped or elderly persons.

State and federal agencies at various levels have attempted to stem the increasing tide of deaths and painful, expensive injuries, but since the process is largely one of education and training, time may be required before a significant improvement can be seen.

Of this difference, 15 cents is due to the A. O. Smith Corp. of Texas line pipe operation, with the balance attributable to losses at the company's elevator subsidiaries.

The 15 cents per share difference in the Texas operation, Smith said, is the swing between 1971 and 1972. A. O. Smith's share of the actual losses incurred by the Texas affiliate in 1972 amounted to 21 cents per share.

Smith pointed out that the company sold its half of A. O. Smith Corp. of Texas to Arco Steel Corp. effective Nov. 30, 1972.

Strikes by construction workers which plagued the entire elevator industry during a large portion of 1972 cost the company about 40 cents per share, compared to 1971, while a lack of tax carryback provisions in Canada added 20 cents to the problem, with operational difficulties accounting for another 37 cents of the difference.

Most other parts of the company performed well in 1972, Smith said. The Consumer Products division and a subsidiary, A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., turned in record results, while the Automotive and Electric Motor divisions reported good performances.

The Automotive division did a good job, he said, although profits were about the same as a year ago. This is because the most extensive model changes in the division's history occurred in 1972 — and also because of the Economic Stabilization Program's adverse effect on margins.

This division's volume increased over $30 million in 1972 as it obtained new passenger car and truck frame business.

Smith told analysts that an end to the elevator industry strikes, which are under way in all of Canada and in New York City, would considerably brighten the earnings outlook for 1973.

The elimination of losses from the Texas line pipe operation will also help 1973 results, he said.

A. O. Smith, with its subsidiaries, is a widely diversified manufacturer of electric motors, electrical controls, meter systems, auto and truck frames, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, water heating equipment, elevators and other products. Its Granite City plant produces auto frames.

OPEN MONDAY THRU SATURDAY 9:30 A.M. - 9:30 P.M.

MR. AND MRS. GARRY HEIL. They were married in an evening ceremony at Faith Chapel General Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Marilyn Denise Thomas, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Thomas Sr., 539 Fleming St.

Faith Chapel Scene of Thomas-Heil Nuptials

Miss Marilyn Denise Thomas, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Thomas Sr., 539 Fleming St., was married to Garry Heil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Heil, Rural Route One, McLeansboro, Ill., exchanged wedding vows Jan. 13 at Faith Chapel General Baptist Church.

The Rev. Willard Myers performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening. Mrs. Clarence Heil of Bethalto, Ill., presided at the organ and played "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding, the bride chose a white full-length gown designed with a fitted Chantilly lace bodice with long tapered sleeves, terminating in points at the wrists.

The high neckline was etched with tiny seed pearls and the very full skirt of peau de soie was fashioned in redingote effect. Tiers of lace ruffles formed the front insertion panel.

She wore a Chantilly lace mantilla veil and held a nosegay of white carnations centered with a corsage.

Maid of honor, Miss Sharon Heil, a sister of the groom, wore a pink formal-length gown, featuring a high neckline trimmed with dainty lace, long sleeves and a slightly gathered skirt. Her bouquet was an arrangement of pink carnations.

Miss Linda Harrison, bridesmaid, selected a blue dress made in similar style to the maid of honor's gown. Her flowers were blue carnations.

The groom chose Robert Heil, a cousin from Wood River, as best man. Steven Thomas, a brother of the bride, was groomsmen.

A reception was held in the church annex immediately following the ceremony. The bride's parents were hosts at a rehearsal dinner given in their home.

The newly married couple will reside in Grand Junction, Tenn., where the groom is employed by the Southern Railroad Co.

Plans were finalized for the initiation of new members, to take place April 11, and a party for veterans at the Altan State Hospital, set for February.

Prayers for peace were offered to close the business session and a social hour followed, with Mrs. Weiss and Mrs. Georgia Graham serving refreshments.

Those winning prizes at games were Mesdames Peggy Gibson, Sharon Morris, Doris Edwards, Betty Howell, Katie Baris and Lumeta Durbin.

Mrs. Evelyn Tolliver, 1250 Klein St., Venice, entertained the Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Sigma Phi in her home last week. Plans were made for an "Unbirthday Party" Feb. 14 at the home of Dolores Byrnes, and a March 9 party in Worden.

The program "Understanding Art" was given by Mrs. Lora Mae Lombardi and Mrs. Delores Byrnes. Mrs. Lombardi presented excerpts from the works of Rimsky-Korsakov, Elgar, Brahms and Liszt and briefly discussed their lives.

Mrs. Dorich spoke on such famous artists as DeVinchi and Michelangelo, commenting that "we also meet people everyday who are artists—not famous—but none the less very talented."

As an example she displayed some of the art and handwork of Miss Jackie Willard, a Trust Bank, who enjoys the hobbies of decoupage, ceramics, needlepoint and crocheting.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Dolores Byrnes, Jean Dunne and Evelyn Tolliver. Others present were Mesdames Jane Laule, May Ebling, Betty Ebling, Arlene Haldeman and Inogene Forrest.

The Schermer Bulletin...

Schermer's customers are really on the ball. Last week when we ran the Jackpot winner as Mary Clemens, we got numerous inquiries "how come?" On WGNH the name was Mary Odon, Well, a very simple answer; Mary Odon got married and she became Mary Clemens. It just shows that our customers really pay attention.

Speaking of attention, we were happy to see the big crowd at the Venice Crippled Children's Association Saturday. For those of you who don't know all the good work that they do, let us tell you that among other things, over the years, they have given the Shriners Hospital over $35,000.00. This is just great.

Our 10-cent fish deal has been a big success. We have enough for a few more weeks, but will probably be out before Lent. Stock up now at this ridiculous low price.

We drew the last of our carload of riblets. This will be the last week for them. We could have raised the price long ago, but we bought them low and we sold them low, every last pound of them. This is our policy. If we make a "bait", we pass it on to our customers all the way; THAT'S THE SCHERMER WAY.

Parental Interest Aids Pupils, Speaker Tells Marshall School PTA

Dr. James Comer, director of elementary education for SUE, was guest speaker at the January meeting of the Marshall School PTA last week. The unit discussed arrangements for its annual winter carnival.

Brownie Troop 146, under the leadership of Mrs. Sue Reading and Mrs. Nancy Wickham, gave the flag presentation and led the audience in the national pledge. Mrs. Wickham gave the PTA prayer and Mrs. Mary Havron, president, called the meeting to order.

Reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. Reading, and treasurer, Mrs. Athalea Bug. Mrs. Havron reported on an advance sale of school sweat-shirts. They can be ordered with blue background and white lettering or the reverse.

Principal Richard Ault called. Dorell, Betty Stark, Lucille Sackett, Mary Baker, Claudette Spaulberger, Jewel Ratliff and Judy Harris and Miss Tammy Adams.

ducted a room count and the monthly award was won by Mrs. Ellen Brokaw's second grade classroom for the most parents attending. The chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Osborn, reported on the school carnival scheduled for February 3.

Dr. Comer spoke on "Helping to Develop the Child's Individual Talents and Skills."

He urged parental assistance with student needs and informed the parents that their own interest in the school and teachers can greatly aid a child's education.

Sometimes just a simple question like "What did you do on school today?" can hinder rather than help a student, he added. Dr. Comer urged working with the child's "wants," for both teacher and parent.

Following adjournment, refreshments were served by third and fourth grade room mothers and the hospitality chairman, Rosemarie Ortiz, Mrs. Judy Webb and Mrs. Diane Casin. The tables were decorated in a patriotic theme.

Pontoon Kills Plan For Advisory Board

A proposed citizens' advisory board for the Pontoon Beach Police Department was rejected Thursday night by the Village Board. The trustees voted 2-2 on the issue and Trustee Don McNew abstained, which was considered a negative vote, thus defeating the proposal.

Three members to the board had been suggested by Otto Kreher, village board president. They were Julian Gilliam, Dwayne Skinner and Barry Kidder.

The trustees Thursday indicated all village board candidates in the upcoming April election to tour the new village hall Saturday. During the tour, which all candidates attended, they made several suggestions for space allocation.

The Village Board gave its permission to Kreher and the village clerk to sign a lease for the building at 3039 Lake Drive in Milieu Federal Savings & Loan Assn., holder of the title, agrees to delete a portion calling for the village to pay for insurance against fire, wind and hail damage. Homestead Exemption Deadline Wednesday

Homeowners 65 years of age or more who have not applied for "homestead exemptions" for the 1973 year will lose the $1,500 exemption unless they file applications not later than Wednesday, Von Dee Cruse, Granite City township assessor, emphasized today.

Those eligible for the tax cut are persons who were 65 on Jan. 1 this year and who own the home in which they live. Granite City property owners may file applications with the Granite City assessor's office. Those in Venice, Namsoli and Chouteau townships may file application with their respective township assessors.

In past years the Jan. 31 deadline for filing exemption applications has been extended, but no additional time has been allowed this year, Cruse said. Property owners who filed applications for homestead exemptions in previous years, must renew their applications each year before the Jan. 31 deadline.

Robbers Take $2,000 At Service Station

Two men, one armed with a small-caliber pistol, took more than $2,000 from Dale's Clark service station on Route 111 south of Route 162 at 3 a.m. today.

Eugene Harris, 6 Iris Court, Pontoon Beach, the attendant at the time, said three men in a 1968 or 69 red car parked at the intersection and two walked over to the service station.

One man wearing a black jacket reportedly displayed the gun and struck Harris with the butt of the pistol, causing a laceration over an eye.

Harris was forced into the back room where the money was kept. Cigarettes and other items in the room were not disturbed. The men then returned to the auto and fled north on Route 111, Harris said.

He said the man with the pistol was about 6 feet tall. The other was a shorter, stocky, about 5 feet 10 inches tall and wearing a red checkered coat. The driver of the car was not described.

MORE ABOUT Prisoners

ing some of the loveliest letters and calls from former college chums of both Wager and her, and also from those in her 1964 graduating class at Granite City High School," Mrs. Neeth said this morning.

Both Lt. Innes and his wife attended Culver-Stockton College at Canton, Mo. They were married in August 1966.

"Many other letters have arrived from bracelet wearers, people she doesn't know at all," Mrs. Neeth said. "The past two years, persons all over the country have purchased POW/MIA bracelets inscribed with the names of American servicemen known to be prisoners or listed as missing."

Proceeds from the sale of the jewelry were contributed to the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia in which Mrs. Innes has been active.

She was among the league's representatives who traveled to Paris, Geneva and other world capitals in May 1971 to seek support from all countries for provisions of the Geneva Convention in relation to prisoners held in North Vietnam and to ask the North Vietnamese and National Liberation Front delegations for a firm commitment regarding release of prisoners of war so the way could be cleared for withdrawal of U.S. troops from Indochina.

Mrs. Innes' college roommate, who now lives in California, telephoned her yesterday, it was learned.

Mrs. Neeth said her daughter took the news, or no news, "pretty well. Roger was a wonderful man and Sandy had nothing but happy memories from their time together," she said.

"I know that she really believed he was a prisoner from the little things she has said," her mother continued. "She would go out and buy things, like the mini each new edition of the encyclopedia, saying that Roger will have so many things to catch up on."

Not too long ago, Mrs. Innes remarked to her parents—"Just think, Roger missed the mini skirt and he would have loved them."

Yesterday, she suggested taking the unread set of encyclopedia out to Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, where many of the returning POWs are expected to be hospitalized.

The Nancy casualty officer assigned to Mrs. Innes called Friday evening and said it was hoped the list of POW names would be cleared by noon Saturday.

Early Saturday evening, Mrs. Innes and her mother went to a POW-MIA fundraising project in St. Louis, where Mrs. Innes was helping out. At that time, he told her that it had been received, but a list that was believed to be incomplete.

By 9:30 p.m. Saturday, a second list of confirmed POWs had been authenticated and this time military personnel felt sufficiently sure to send out the casualty service officers on the military supply tasks.

Mrs. Carol Plasmeyer of Belleville, a close friend of Mrs. Innes' and the wife of Marine Captain Bernard Plasmeyer, a pilot, also was told her husband's name is not on the POW list. He has been missing and in action since Sept. 11, 1970.

Capt. Plasmeyer still is officially listed as "missing in action."

Lt. Innes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Innes of Chicago.

Party tickets still will be able to obtain a place on the ballot in township elections through nomination in party caucuses to be held in all townships on Feb. 6.

Astorian was the second candidate to file for the Sixth Ward aldermanic post. He will oppose Earl Baker, 2348 O. Hare St., who filed petitions early in the filing period.

SIUUE Faculty, Staff Donate $11,323 to UF

Faculty and staff of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have contributed $11,323 to eight area United Fund campaigns, Gene H. Graves, assistant to the president and SIUE United Fund campaign chairman, has reported. The total contributed set a record.

The campus campaign was conducted in November and December, with faculty and staff making cash contributions or pledges to be paid through payroll deduction.

New Deadline for City Treatment Plant is Urged

A recommendation that the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency approve requests by Granite City for variances from original deadline dates for installation of secondary sewage treatment facilities was made at a hearing in the city hall here Friday by David Welch of the enforcement division of the federal EPA.

The recommendation came after Mayor Donald Partney and Ray Welch, president of the M. W. Architects & Engineers, Inc., special engineers for the city treatment project, at the hearing that it would be virtually impossible to complete secondary sewage treatment facilities by the original deadline of Dec. 31 this year.

The hearing was held by the Illinois EPA on requests by Granite City that the deadline for construction of the treatment plant be set for March 15, 1975, and that requirements for installation of chlorination facilities at the city's present treatment plant be delayed.

Welch recommended that the state approve the March 15 deadline for the treatment plant construction providing that a Granite City install chlorination facilities at the primary plant within the next 60 days. The federal EPA has threatened court action to enforce installation of the disinfectant facilities.

The hearing began at 9 a.m. and was concluded at 11 a.m. by Hearing Officer Allan Finegold of Chicago. The state EPA also was requested to make an early ruling on the variance decisions to permit Granite City to meet a March 15 deadline for construction of the treatment plant.

Comment and Analysis

Use of Highway Funds to Provide Mass Transit Financial Aid to Be Debated at Both the State and Federal Levels

Comment by Press-Record bureau in Washington—Speculation on Illinois Governor Daniel Walker's "state of the state" message tomorrow has focused attention on reports he will urge major emphasis on mass transit, including use of state motor fuel tax funds to supplement federal outlays.

When Illinois Lieutenant Governor Neil F. Hartigan came to Washington for President Nixon's inaugural ceremony, he emphasized the new Springfield administration's vital interest in mass transit to ease some of the state's urban woes.

Hartigan was treading in a primeval ooze left over from the 92nd Congress, a ferment of amorphous ideas seeking a functional identity. An evolutionary might be apt to liken last year's chaos to the first stirrings of life.

On Capitol Hill, legislative midwives believe the 93rd is the Congress in whose time the idea for mass transit fundings has come. They are making early preparations to avoid the rush-to-adjustment confusion that killed its prospects last year.

Few would argue with Chicago Mayor Richard Daley's Senate testimony last February that cities will be carpeted with "wall-to-wall automobiles" unless they get help. But there is a wide difference of opinion on how this federal aid should be forthcoming.

That was the sticking point last October when Rep. Glenn Anderson, a California Democrat, offered amendments to open the highway trust fund to mass transit spending.

Rep. John B. Anderson, the Illinoisan who heads the Republican Conference Committee and was then ranking minority member on House Rules, sought to get a favorable ruling, but both Andersons were turned back at once of order.

These crucial votes, one in committee and the other on the floor, doomed efforts to dip into the trust fund for mass transit and split the Illinois delegation as well.

The two Andersons are trying again. They co-sponsored legislation on the first day of the 93rd Congress to divert highway trust funds to mass transit aid. They are hoping for early hearings, either before or shortly after the Lincoln-Washington recess.

This, they believe, may bring the issue to the floor in March, allowing ample time for debate, a reconciliation of any differences and final passage in the first session of the 93rd Congress.

On the Senate side, both Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, D-Ill., are for increased mass transit spending. Percy would create a single transportation fund, while Stevenson, among other proposals, would open up the highway trust fund.

The issue of breaching the sanctity of the highway trust fund for mass transit undoubtedly gives congressmen some troublesome moments.

As examples, Rep. John C. Kluczynski, Chicago Democrat, who headed the House Roads Subcommittee last year, and House Minority Whip Leslie C. Arends opposed the Anderson amendments.

A committee source said, "Klu has been badly reported. He's for both the highway and transit programs. The turmoil is where the money is coming from."

Arends, the veteran Melvin congressman, an aide said, is well aware of the urban problem. But he is equally convinced that Illinois urgently needs highways as the assurance of the trust fund money to build them.

Out of the welter of ideas swirling in the 92nd and 93rd Congresses, something must come into being that will answer the National League of Cities and the U.S. Conference of Mayors as well as placate the auto lobby, the biggest on the Hill.

One suggestion here is that a separate trust fund be created out of general revenues for mass transit. This, too, is sure to generate opposition. Congress may have a choice of picking the least heated issue.

Don't spend much time criticizing elected officials unless you voted in the last election.

Let a smile be your umbrella, but don't save it for a rainy day.

A burden is not really heavy if everybody concerned gives a helping hand.

USE CENTRAL AS SENIOR CITIZENS' PUFFLER

To the Editor:

Answer to "Puffler—How to make use of Central Junior High Building" in the Jan. 8 issue.

Quote: "Use of 60-year-old structure somewhat limited because of its nature."

Where is that commodity called "Vision?"

Other educational uses, such as adult education classes for senior citizens. What is presently provided for us are the kinds of activities that only serve to "put in the time."

What we really need are things that exercise our intellect and talents.

Manual training: Hobby shop, space and cost prohibitive for individuals.

Home economics room: Food and nutrition classes, especially adapted for people cooking for one or two.

Use theatrical talent by putting on plays (money used to assist in maintenance).

Cafeteria: Many uses for this facility.

Library branch for senior citizens' use.

Craft shop: maintained by volunteers to sell arts and crafts—on a commission basis—the articles made by senior citizens.

I am sure that there are enough civic organizations in this area that could think of ideas for its use, that would make it both self-supporting and be a nucleus for many activities.

Problems? Yes. But with know-how waiting to be used, we can solve any that may arise.

TOO MANY TAKE GOOD HEALTH FOR GRANTED

To the Editor:

In this day of push-button gadgets and automobiles, millions of people are only half the physical specimens they ought to be—because of a lack of exercise.

Notice a crowd of people sometime. Observe the various sizes and shapes—the fat people, the overfed businessmen, and then others who have no more meat on their bones than a scarecrow.

Am I talking about a need for huge, bulging muscles? No, not necessarily at all.

But nearly everyone today does need an intelligently planned program of exercise.

Exercise stimulates deep breathing and increases blood circulation. It aids in the expelling of poisons from the system, and tends to produce "normalcy" in all body functions.

While work leaves one tired and sometimes enervated, proper exercise is of remarkable assistance in building up energy. The body is often recharged after systematic weight training, cycling and jogging.

This form of exercise can include all of the muscle groups of the body—whereas regular work or games often neglect many of these while overtaxing others.

The training effect from this type of exercise will tend to relax the individual and banish many of his tensions and emotional traumas.

It will enable him to tolerate the stress of daily living better, and get more work done, with less fatigue. And it will definitely help prevent heart disease.

Child in Learning

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Advisor - Home Economics

Whether your child is in school or at home, what he learns during his play experience depends upon his interaction with the teacher or with you, his parent.

There are basically four kinds of teacher-child interaction that provide useful learning experience for the child.

The most important and frequent experience for the preschooler is exploration. During his playtime, he uses his own information, imagination and ability for a happy and relaxed play activity.

The adult in this situation merely provides a comfortable play area free from disruption and interferences from others, and makes sure the child has adequate time and space for his play activity.

Another type of interaction is called expansion. It simply means putting into words what a child has done.

The teacher may comment on what the child is doing or the way in which he is experimenting to solve a problem. Expansion is used to call attention to important information and introduce words to the child in a meaningful context.

Teachers focus on this segment of the child's play after he has had previous experience with the toys or during his further explorations with these same toys.

Interaction may also result from a teacher-initiated activity, inviting the child to explore new materials.

In this type of play situation, the teacher takes a "back-seat" role introducing new activities and toys to the child. The teacher evaluates the child's development and initiates new play situations to him.

During teacher-directed play, the teacher acts as a more explicit force in guiding the child's playtime. The teacher gives directions, which the child is expected to carry out.

This type of play experience should be used less frequently, although he may use a toy frequently, he may still gain new experiences each time he plays with that particular toy because of his physical and mental growth.

Usually a voice tells a great deal about its owner. A smooth pleasant voice generally reflects a poised personality. A happy voice reflects a feeling of joy.

Some voices are colorful while others are monotonous due to a lack of animation. Your voice can appeal or repel.

However, the character and temperament of the owner do not always give the voice its tone color. The wrong tone color reflected by the voice is often due to speech faults. Most speech problems are caused by careless habits that can be corrected.

Boredom is simply an emotional reaction to monotony. And monotony is constantly with us; we can't escape all of it, but we can learn not to let it get us down.

To help yourself cope with boredom, rediscover and develop the natural ability to relax that you had as a child. Develop the courage to show your natural feelings.

Use external resources only to supplement the inner resources—imagination, contemplation and perception. Don't demand to be entertained; do something for, or with, another person.

A fun way to teach and encourage a toddler to wash his hands is to combine the washing with a nursery rhyme.

For instance, use "Rub-a-Dub-Dub." Go through the motions of the nursery rhyme with the child's hands while he is washing.

Eventually, he will consider washing his hands a game instead of a chore.

Clif St. James to Host Mardis Gras Ball

Clif St. James, better known to many as "Corky the Clown" and the weatherman on KSD-TV and KSD Radio, will be the master of ceremonies for the American Cancer Society's Third Annual Mardis Gras Ball. The dance will be held at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant, East Alton, Saturday, March 3, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

A new personality for the Mardis Gras this year, Clif St. James has had a many faceted career in show business. "It was always the smallest kid in my class, so I had to be funny and fast," he recalls, explaining that it was this enforced entertaining of his schoolmates that catapulted him toward a "show biz" career.

Born in Niagara Falls, N. Y., as Clifford Scrivener, he and his family moved to Rochester, N. Y., where he attended grade school. His junior high and high school years were spent in Honeoye, N. Y., where Clif continued to entertain fellow students.

Three years in the Army followed during World War II, the third year of which was spent in a show unit, headquartered in Heidelberg, Germany, that toured Europe entertaining the servicemen.

After the loss of a buddy, whom he had greatly respected, Clif adopted his name—St. James—a name he has used professionally with pride since that time.

Clif enrolled in the Dramatic Workshop in New York, where finally he studied the techniques that make up the world of show business. A bit of summer stock in upstate New York followed and he was ready for his first job at WVET in Rochester, N. Y., a brand-new radio station started by 38 veterans, and affiliated with the Mutual network.

He was at WVET for three years as an announcer, disc jockey and co-host of a children's program called "Just Imagine" with Claire Hazel, the original "Honey Chile" of the Bob Hope Show. He joined an NBC affiliated station in Charleston, S. C., where he developed "The Clif and Nancy Show" with his wife, Nancy, whose charm and beautiful singing voice enhanced the talents of Clif.

From Charleston, Clif came to St. Louis, where he free-lanced as an announcer on all stations, and brought "The Clif and Nancy Show" to Radio Station KSD. In 1956 he joined the KSD staff for both radio and television, to which he brought the children's program which he originated, "Corky the Clown".

In subsequent years Clif has developed puppet characters that his loyal little viewers love. This same creative talent, inherited from a family of artists, he has put to use on his weather shows, developing caricatures to enliven the weathercasts and present the information as graphically and as appealing as possible.

Clif claims that his hobbies are horseback riding, gardening and "goofing off" . . . all of which can be summed up in one word, "relaxing." Clif and Nancy have three daughters, Patricia, Stacy and Lori, and one son, Clip.

The dance committee of the Madison County American Cancer Society has been meeting on a regular basis since fall, and plans for the Mardis Gras are progressing nicely, the group reported.

The public event is the major fund-raising activity of the society and has grown in popularity each year from its inception in 1971.

State Homemakers Seek to Broaden 'Sphere of Living'

Hugh Muncy, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association, delivered the opening address at the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation (IHEF) annual meeting, held Thursday and Friday in the Great Hall of Krannert Center for the Performing Arts on the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign campus.

Muncy's talk entitled "Beginning Here . . ." urged the homemakers to begin where they are to broaden the family sphere of living.

Federation delegates represented approximately 42,000 members in 98 county Homemakers Extension organizations. However, the meeting was open to all members.

Delegates voted on proposed changes in the IHEF constitution and bylaws, and elected officers. Highlighting a banquet in the Illini Union was an address by Robert E. Prothero, vice-president of Illinois Bell Telephone Co., on "Profits of Social Responsibility."

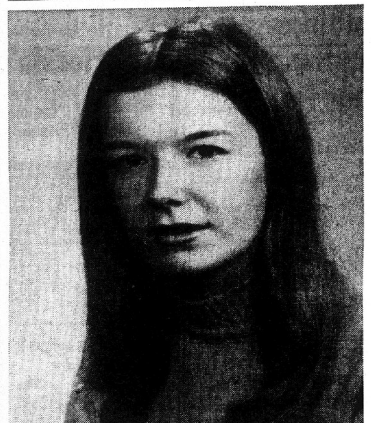

A series of workshops at the Friday morning session in War-dall Hall dealt with: Citizenship and Safety, Cultural Arts, International Affairs, Public Information, Membership and Voluntary Action. Mrs. John Delap, Paris, chairman of the annual meeting committee, announced the meeting theme: "Oh, Say Can You See?"

The objective is: "Homemakers: Aware of Good and Ills of Society, Concern for Mankind, True to Convictions." The first letter of each phrase in the objective spells the word "ACT."

Representing the 1,159 HEA members in Madison County at the two-day meeting was a delegation of 32 women headed by Mesdames Robert Brave, Granite City; H. H. Meyenburg, Alton; Gene Lumer and Leslie Cousin, Collinsville; and Clifford Stahlhut and d. Louvain Vieth, Edwardsville.

Mrs. Udell Wehling of Alhambra attended the meeting as a nominee for IHEF District 8 director.
